Friedlander's Timely Sale Provides Unusual Suit Values.

These chilly mornings are striking reminders of the fact that the time has come when the man who wishes to be comfortable must lay aside his summer suit and don garments more suitable for fall wear. To such men, the $10 sale of suits now going on at Friedlander Bros., 428 Ninth street northwest, will come as doubly welcome news. It is a matter of general knowledge that the cost of materials and labor have increased to such an extent that suits will cost more this season than ever be-fore. Yet, through the foresight of Friedlander's buyer, these suits were purchased months ago, making this remarkably low price possible.

Bear in mind that every suit offered represents the most desirable models of the season. Plenty in pinch-back models, English models with patch pockets, and conservative styles. Such materials as cashmeres, cheviots, woolens and serges in blues, browns, grays and fancy mix-tures.

Every size is in the lot and even the Every size is in the lot and even the man of "odd" proportions will experience no difficulty in finding a suit to fit him at this astonishingly low price of $10. It goes without saying that this sale can last for but a limited time—the man of foresight will accordingly make haste to em-brace the opportunity.
